Stockpile Destruction and Implementation of Article 3

May 2012

Sub-Saharan Regional Meeting on the Convention on Cluster Munitions Accra

Mark Hiznay, Human Rights Watch

Steps Necessary to Destroy Stockpiles of Cluster Munitions

- Inventory of types, quantities, locations
 - •Check Army (artillery, mortars), Air Force (bombs, rockets), Navy (bombs, naval infantry)
 - Transparency report
- •Determine method of destruction, identify budget, develop timeline
 - •Report annually in transparency report
- Commence physical destruction
 - •Report annually
- •Complete program, celebrate and report!

Global Stockpile Destruction Totals

- Nineteen States Parties declared stockpiles of 1.04 million cluster munitions, containing over 144 million explosive submunitions in their initial transparency reports
- 650,000 cluster munitions and 68.2 million explosive submunitions destroyed
- 62 percent of declared cluster munitions and 47 percent of declared explosive submunitions destroyed

Cluster Munition Stockpiles in Africa: States Parties

- Declared No stockpiles: Burkina Faso, Ghana, Lesotho, Malawi, Zambia
- Not thought to stockpile: Botswana, Burundi, Cape Verde, Comoros, Mali, Mauritania, Mozambique, Niger, Senegal, Seychelles, Sierra Leone, Swaziland
- Stockpile status unknown or unclear: Guinea Bissau, Cote d'Ivoire

Cluster Munition Stockpiles in Africa: Signatories

- Current Stockpiles: Guinea, Nigeria, South Africa
- Completed destruction: Angola, DR Congo, Republic of the Congo
- No stockpiles: Benin, Central African Republic, Djibouti, Gambia, Madagascar, Namibia, Rwanda, Togo, Uganda
- Not believed to have a stockpile: Cameroon, Chad, Kenya, Liberia, Sao Tome and Principe, Somalia, Tanzania

Stockpiles in Non Signatories

- Eritrea, Ethiopia, Sudan, Zimbabwe
- Listings here based on historical information and locations of past use.

Next Steps

- Article 7 Reports: Cape Verde, Comoros, Guinea-Bissau, Mali, Mozambique, and Niger have overdue Article 7 reports. Signatories of the CCM have option to submit a voluntary Article 7 report.
- Stockpile destruction plans: Vientiane Action Plan commits SPs to have a plan for stockpile destruction within one year and to begin physical destruction as soon as possible. SD does not need to be an economically burdensome or technically complex process.